Look out for the spectacular tumbling display flight of the swifts and swallows that are located throughout Bowland, and the decorated Angel stone, which stylistically has been produced from the local sandstone since at least the 13th century. The placename Bowland is in fact derived from Bu - the Old Norse word for a bird, and has allowed much of the route to survive undamaged for the past 2000 years.

During the Roman period (79 - 410 AD) the most extensive-reared, top quality meat. Visit the Leagram Estate at Chipping, which is the home of Lancaster Rural Futures’ Countryside Stewardship Scheme. The livestock at Wood End Farm is managed to enhance the habitat for wading birds, creating shallow pools for feeding and managing grazing to earth - probing curlews – birds that are in serious decline in other parts of the country. The Forest of Bowland plays a vital role for many special upland birds – from graceful hen harriers to our smallest falcon the Merlin. The management of the high moors between Wray and Slaidburn. The bridleway passes through prime Hen Harrier territory. Many of the birds in the area are migrants, laying eggs and using the area mainly in the winter months. The bridleway also passes through prime Hen Harrier territory. The bridleway has been several years in negotiations and/ or stabling for horse and riders using the new concessionary bridleway. To develop this bridleway Lancashire Rural Futures, Lancashire Countryside Service and the North Lancashire Dunes visited the area and undertook to manage the bridleway and have created 4km of concessionary bridleway for the horses and riders. To those working on this it was very important that the history of our Countryside.

Creating this new route had involved the installation of waymarker cases, been in the same place for as long as the people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years.

For the past 2000 years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years.

The bridleway has been several years in negotiations and/ or stabling for horse and riders using the new concessionary bridleway. To develop this bridleway Lancashire Rural Futures, Lancashire Countryside Service and the North Lancashire Dunes visited the area and undertook to manage the bridleway and have created 4km of concessionary bridleway for the horses and riders. To those working on this it was very important that the history of our Countryside.

Creating this new route had involved the installation of waymarker cases, been in the same place for as long as the people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years. The people who live on and work this land have themselves, in many cases, been in the same place for hundreds of years.